[ BODYTRAFFIC ]

Dear Teachers,

Thank you for joining us for the Applause Series presentation of O2Joy by BODYTRAFFIC. Since its founding in 2007, BODYTRAFFIC has gained an international reputation for performing repertory that is vibrant, inspiring, accessible, and challenging to both new audiences and experienced dance enthusiasts. We are thrilled to welcome them to share a special performance for school audiences that showcases contrasting styles of American dance and music from the past century.

We hope that this study guide helps you connect the performance to your in-classroom curriculum in ways that you find valuable. In the following pages, you will find contextual information about the performance and related subjects, as well as a variety of discussion questions and activities. Some pages are appropriate to reproduce for your students; others are designed more specifically with you, their teacher, in mind. As such, we hope that you are able to “pick and choose” material and ideas from the study guide to meet your class’s unique needs.

As a final note about the study guide, many of the activities are movement-based; we encourage you to look to our “Introducing Movement into the Classroom” section for helpful tips to make your class’s first steps into the world of dance a successful and enjoyable experience for all.

See you at the theater,

ABOUT DES MOINES PERFORMING ARTS

Des Moines Performing Arts is a private, nonprofit organization and is an important part of central Iowa's cultural community. It is recognized nationally for excellence as a performing arts center and is committed to engaging the Midwest in world-class entertainment, education, and cultural activities.

Des Moines Performing Arts presents professional touring productions, including theater direct from Broadway, world-renowned dance companies, family programming, comedy, and concerts.

Education and Community Engagement programs are core to Des Moines Performing Arts' mission as a nonprofit performing arts center.

Public education programs allow audience members and local artists to make meaningful and personal connections to the art they experience on our stages. Guest lectures and Q&As with company members allow audiences to explore the inner workings of the performance. In addition, master classes, workshops, and summer camps taught by visiting performers give local actors, dancers, and musicians the chance to increase their skills by working directly with those who know what it takes to succeed on the professional stage.

Through its K-12 School Programs, Des Moines Performing Arts strives to ensure that central Iowa students have affordable access to high quality arts experiences as part of their education. More than 50,000 students and educators attend curriculum-connected school matinee performances through the Applause Series annually. In addition, Des Moines Performing Arts sends teaching artists into the schools to provide hands-on workshops and residencies in special opportunities that engage students directly in the creative process. And, through its partnership with the John F. Kennedy Center, Des Moines Performing Arts provides teachers with in-depth professional development training on how to use the arts in their classrooms to better impact student learning. The Iowa High School Musical Theater Awards is Des Moines Performing Arts' newest initiative to support the arts in Iowa schools, providing important learning tools and public recognition to celebrate the achievements of students involved in their high school theater programs.

DID YOU KNOW?

More than 300,000 people visit Des Moines Performing Arts venues each year.

Des Moines Performing Arts opened in 1979.

Des Moines Performing Arts has three theater spaces:

- Civic Center, 2744 seats
- Stoner Theater, 200 seats

As a nonprofit organization, Des Moines Performing Arts depends on donor funding to support facilities, programming, and education programs.

The Applause Series started in 1996. You are joining us for our 20th season of school performances.

GOING TO THE THEATER . . .

YOUR ROLE AS AN AUDIENCE MEMBER

Attending a live performance is a unique and exciting opportunity. Unlike the passive experience of watching a movie, audience members play an important role in every live performance. As they act, sing, dance, or play instruments, the performers on stage are very aware of the audience's mood and level of engagement. Each performance calls for a different response from audience members. Musicians and dancers may desire the audience to focus silently on the stage and applaud only during natural breaks in the performance. Audience members can often take cues from performers on how to respond to the performance appropriately. For example, performers will often pause or bow for applause at a specific time.

As you experience the performance, consider the following questions:

- * What kind of live performance is this (a play, a dance, a concert, etc.)?
- * What is the mood of the performance? Is the subject matter serious or lighthearted?
- * What is the mood of the performers? Are they happy and smiling or somber and reserved?
- * Are the performers encouraging the audience to clap to the music or move to the beat?
- * Are there natural breaks in the performance where applause seems appropriate?

A SPECIAL EXPERIENCE

Seeing a live performance is a very special experience. Although it is not required, many people enjoy dressing up when they attend the theater.

THEATER ETIQUETTE

Here is a checklist of general guidelines to follow when you visit the Civic Center:

- * Leave all food, drinks, and chewing gum at school or on the bus.
- * Cameras, recording devices, and personal listening devices are not permitted in the theater.
- * Turn off and put away all cell phones, pagers, and other electronic devices before the performance begins.
- * Do not text during the performance.
- * Respect the theater. Remember to keep your feet off of the seats and avoid bouncing up and down.
- * When the house lights dim, the performance is about to begin. Please stop talking at this time.
- * Talk before and after the performance only. Remember, the theater is designed to amplify sound. Other audience members and the performers on stage can hear your voice!
- * Use the restroom before the performance or wait until the end. If you must leave the theater during the show, make sure the first set of doors closes before you open the second — this will keep unwanted light from spilling into the theater.
- * Appropriate responses such as laughing and applauding are appreciated. Pay attention to the artists on stage — they will let you know what is appropriate.
- * Open your eyes, ears, mind, and heart to the entire experience. Enjoy yourself!

GOING TO THE THEATER information is adapted from the Ordway Center for the Performing Arts study guide materials.

CIVIC CENTER FIELD TRIP INFORMATION FOR TEACHERS

Thank you for choosing the Applause Series with Des Moines Performing Arts. Below are tips for organizing a safe and successful field trip to the Civic Center.

ORGANIZING YOUR FIELD TRIP

- * Please include all students, teachers, and chaperones in your ticket request.
- * After you submit your ticket request, you will receive a confirmation e-mail within five business days. Your invoice will be attached to the confirmation e-mail.
- * Payment policies and options are located at the top of the invoice. Payment (or a purchase order) for your reservation is due four weeks prior to the date of the performance.
- * The Civic Center reserves the right to cancel unpaid reservations after the payment due date.
- * Tickets are not printed for Applause Series shows. Your invoice will serve as the reservation confirmation for your group order.

ABOUT THE PERFORMANCE

In a special program for school audiences, BODYTRAFFIC will present a retrospective trip back through time as they present three dynamic works showcasing contrasting styles of American dance and music from the 20th and 21st centuries.

The performance will include time for a brief Q&A with the dancers.

Run Time: Approximately 1 hour

THE PIECES

Once again, before you go

With hip-hop, breakdance, and street dance influences, this work is cool, synchronized, and full of wonderful dynamic tension. The music created specifically for this dance creates an emotionally charged atmosphere with a combination between classical music and the more modern synthesized sounds like the loops and scratching created by the DJ’s turntables.

A Trick of the Light

This colorful and nostalgic piece is inspired by the rare “green flash” that occurs just before the sun disappears from view at sunset, the magical moment when the afternoon ends and the evening begins. The piece is set against the romantic songs of the 1960s.

O2Joy

The performance will end with a rousing finale, when five dancers let go and express the delight of moving in an exuberant homage to American jazz standards and big band styles popular in the 1940s.

The work is ballet based, peppered with syncopated hip-hop, and drenched in light-hearted humor. As its title suggests, O2Joy is an expression of sheer joy through music and movement.

A NOTE ABOUT COSTUMES

In contemporary dance and ballet, costumes are often form-fitting and may include bare skin. The intention is to allow the audience to see the detailed shapes made by the dancer’s body and allow for a range of movement. In this way, it is similar to the uniforms worn by Olympic athletes such as swimmers or gymnasts.

THE PEOPLE BEHIND THE SCENES

When people see a performance, they often think only of the performers on stage; however, there are many other people who come together to make the performance happen.

WITH THE COMPANY

The following list covers many of the important roles that contribute to a professional dance performance, such as the one you will experience with BODYTRAFFIC.

Artistic Director: the person who makes sure the dance company is meeting the artistic standards of the company. Artistic standards may include the quality of dancers, dances (choreography), sets, costumes, lights, and music. BODYTRAFFIC has two Artistic Directors, Lillian Rose Barbeito and Tina Finkelman Berkett.

Composer: a person who writes music.

Lighting Designer: decides what kind of light (bright / dark / colors) will illuminate each dance piece.

Costume Designer: designs all the costumes the dancers wear on stage.

Technical Director: makes sure all the technical aspects go together and work, for example the set, lights and sound.

Rehearsal Director: schedules the daily rehearsal plan, ensuring each dance piece is given enough time at rehearsal.

General Manager: oversees all the business of the company, everything from advertising to insurance to paychecks to hiring personnel to make artistic decisions. In general, making sure the company runs smoothly.

RIGHT: What do you think this dance is about based on the lighting and costumes that you see? What mood are the lighting and costume designers trying to make?

ON THE ROAD

In addition, each theater that BODYTRAFFIC travels to has many people on staff to help with the show. This includes the theater's own Technical Director and stage crew that works with the company's technical director.

As you can see, dance is a truly collaborative experience, requiring trust and teamwork among many people.

WHAT IS DANCE?

Once more, before I go

Dance is a fundamental part of the human experience. Read on to learn more about the many reasons why people dance and how dances are put together.

WHY WE DANCE

People have always danced.

In some societies, people dance mostly for religious reasons. They want to appease the gods, to ward off evil, to pray for rain, or to have a good harvest. In other societies, people dance mostly for their own amusement – by themselves or with others. In some places, dance is a performing art in which people dance to entertain others.

When people dance they move their bodies rhythmically to express ideas or emotions. Most of the time, dance has a structure. Sometimes it is improvised or made up on the spot. Traditional folk or tribal dances are passed down from generation to generation.

PHRASES

All dances are made up of sequences of steps and gestures called phrases. Phrases make up a dance the same way that words are put together to form a sentence.

Dance can be performed as a solo, duet, or in a group.

CHOREOGRAPHY

Dances performed for audiences are almost always choreographed, or created, by one person, just as a composer makes up a piece of music.

COSTUMES

Costumes are used to help bring the choreographed dance to life and to help communicate the story or idea.

In modern dance and ballet, costumes are often form-fitting and may include bare skin. This allows the audience to see the detailed shapes made by the dancer's body.

SPOTLIGHT ON: ATHLETICISM

To dance and to play a sport requires a purpose of movement: jumping from one end of the stage to the other as a form of expression, stretching an arm to catch a ball. As you watch think about the following:

- ◇ What, if any, differences are there between a dancer leaping high into the air across the stage and a basketball player jumping to dunk the ball, or an outfielder leaping over the wall to make a great catch?
- ◇ What are some similarities and differences between someone participating in sports and someone dancing, in terms of movement (leap, bend, stretch, etc.)?
- ◇ As with sports, dance also requires the use of energy. What are the differences and similarities in the amount of energy used by a dancer during a full performance and a ball player playing a full game?

ELEMENTS OF DANCE — B.A.S.T.E.

Dance is the movement of the human body through space in time using energy. Dancers use movement to express emotions, stories, ideas, and beliefs. The five elements of dance include: body, action, space, time, and energy. It is important to understand each element as they come together to create the whole.

Discuss each of the elements as a class and then explore each element through movement exercises. These can be as simple as the instructor asking students questions such as: “Show me low!”, “How can you make the body go high?”, “Show walking, skipping, etc.”, “Use your fingers and show fast.” “Show me stretching.” Other, more in-depth ideas for exploring the elements of dance can be found on page 14.

PRE-SHOW EXPLORATION, pg. 1

1) WHO DANCES?

Goals: To understand that dance is a shared art form around the world

Explanation: Students will view a short video featuring people from around the world dancing, paired with guided discussion.

Materials:

- ◇ Internet connection with YouTube access
- ◇ Projector or other way to show the video
- ◇ Chalk board or chart paper

Activity:

1. Explain to students that they will be going to the theater to see a professional dance performance. Today, you would like to explore the question of 'Who dances?'
2. Write "Who Dances" on the chalkboard or flipchart paper. Ask for students to volunteer ideas about who dances. (Ideas may include ballerinas, cheerleaders, brides and grooms, etc.)
3. After you have gathered responses, tell students that they are going to watch a short video that may give them some additional thoughts on who dances.
4. Play the "Where...is Matt 2012" video by clicking on the image below.

Follow-up Questions:

1. Did anything surprise you about that video?
2. Are there additions we need to make to our 'Who dances' list? (Eventually, the goal is to have a student suggest that everybody dances in some form.)
3. Now that we've explored who dances, why do you think people dance? (To celebrate, to entertain, to worship, to express themselves, etc.)

Show students the video "Where the Hell is Matt? 2012" in which Matt Harding engages people from all around the world in dancing with him.

2) LOOKING AT DANCE

Goals: To provide tools to investigate and understand dance as an art form.

Explanation: In this activity, students will preview excerpts from BODYTRAFFIC'S O2Joy.

Materials:

- ◇ Internet connection
- ◇ Computer speakers
- ◇ Projector or other way to show the video
- ◇ Copies of response handout on page 14

Activity:

1. Explain to students that they will be going to the theater to see a professional dance performance. Today, you would like to preview excerpts from one of the dances that they will see.
2. Tell students that as they watch, you would like them to think about the following questions:
  - ◇ What do they notice?
  - ◇ What does the movement remind them of?
  - ◇ What feelings or emotions does the movement evoke?
  - ◇ What questions do they have?
3. With the sound off, play the video by clicking on the image at right.
4. After the video finishes, give each student a copy of the handout (pg. 14) to fill out. Tell them that you would like them to write down at least two ideas in each quadrant. As they work, play the video again without sound for them to refer to.
5. After students have something in each area of the worksheet, ask them to put down their pencils. This time, play the video for them with the sound on.
6. Encourage them to add more thoughts to the worksheet.
7. Last, ask students to write in the center circle the title they would give this dance if they were the choreographer.

Video excerpts from O2Joy.

Follow-up Questions:

1. What were some of the ideas you wrote down?
2. Describe the energy of the dancers and the dance.
3. Is there a mood in this dance?
4. Did the music change your experience in any way?

PRE-SHOW EXPLORATION, pg. 2

3) THE DANCING MIRROR

Goals: To identify locomotor and non-locomotor action, to develop basic dance vocabulary, and to practice types of action.

Explanation: In this movement-based activity, students will explore ACTION (one of the basic elements of dance) through exploration of locomotor and non-locomotor movements.

Materials:

- ◇ Open area
- ◇ Chalkboard and chalk or whiteboard and markers

Activity:

1. Write 'locomotor movement' and 'non-locomotor movement' on the board and read the descriptions of each from the elements of dance ACTION section on page 11.
2. Read through the examples of each type of action as a group and ask students to generate additional examples of each that can be listed on the board underneath the title of each type of action.
3. Ask the students to stand up and form a circle with you. Explain to students that they are to be your mirror image. If your hand moves, their hand moves. If your body sways, their body sways, etc.
4. Demonstrate a number of examples of action from the board and ask students to name whether the action is locomotor or non-locomotor movement as they mirror the action.
5. Ask students to form pairs and each take turns being the leader and the follower using both locomotor and non-locomotor actions.

Follow-up Questions:

1. Describe how it felt to perform locomotor action.
2. Describe how it felt to perform non-locomotor action.
3. What was it like to lead your partner?
4. What was it like to follow your partner?
5. What did your movements remind you of, if anything?

Teacher Tip:

If you have not introduced movement activities within your classroom before, be sure to check out "Preparing for Success: Introducing Movement Into the Classroom" on page 16 for some simple exercises and pointers to get your class started.

Adapted from Diavolo's "Young Person's Concert Study Guide."

4) GROOVING TO THE BEAT

Goals: To identify and create a beat, to change tempo of beat and movement, and to move through space to beat.

Explanation: In this movement-based activity, students will explore TIME and SPACE, two of the basic elements of dance, through beat creation and movement through space.

Materials:

- ◇ Open area

Activity:

1. Ask the students to create a circle and clap 8 count beats while counting out loud: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8.
2. Explore variations in tempo by asking students to insert a word after each number such as 'Mississippi' for a slow tempo, 'art' for a fast tempo, or 'dancer' for a medium tempo. I.e. "one, Mississippi, two," etc.
3. Ask students to divide into two groups: A and B.
4. Ask group "A" to clap a beat using one of the tempo prompts from the previous step, while group "B" moves through the space by stepping on each beat. To give the walking purpose and character, you may want to ask students to move like a certain kind of animal as they walk, or as if walking on the moon, through water, etc.
5. Students in group "A" can experiment with different tempos, prompted by you, as students in group "B" change their movement to the beat.
6. Ask the two groups to switch roles.

Follow-up Questions:

1. Describe the difference between moving to the beat and creating the beat by clapping. Was one more challenging for you? Why?
2. How did changing the tempo of the beat affect your group's movement?
3. Describe some of the ways that everyone moved through the space (stepping, high or low levels, etc.). What are some other ways that you might move through space to a beat?

Teacher Tip:

If you have not introduced movement activities within your classroom before, be sure to check out "Preparing for Success: Introducing Movement Into the Classroom" on page 16 for some simple exercises and pointers to get your class started.

ASSESSMENT ACTIVITIES

1) WRITE A REVIEW

Ask students to imagine that they are a critic for the school newspaper. They are going to write a review of the performance to inform others about what they experienced. They should describe with detail: what they saw; what they heard; how the performance made them feel; what the performance reminded them of; and what their favorite part was and why. Remind students that they must paint a picture of the experience with their words so that others who did not see the performance can imagine it as vividly as possible.

2) YOUR ARTISTIC IMPRESSION

Create your own artistic impression of the performance. Using shapes, lines, colors, patterns and other artistic elements from your imagination, draw or paint a picture that expresses how the dancers made you feel. Use art to interpret your impression of the performance and qualities of the dance.

3) EXPLORE EMOTION

Have students pick an emotion they felt while watching the performance. Allow students to draw or write about the emotion using the following questions to guide their exploration:

- What does _____ look like?
- What does _____ sound like?
- What does _____ feel like?
- What does _____ smell like?
- What does _____ taste like?

4) WRITE TO THE DANCERS

Once you have seen the performance and you and your students have had a chance to discuss what you saw and read, write to the BODYTRAFFIC dancers. Artists love to read about what teachers and students thought of the performance.

PREPARING FOR SUCCESS...

INTRODUCING MOVEMENT INTO THE CLASSROOM

Introducing movement into the classroom can be a richly rewarding experience, tapping into both visual and kinesthetic learning modalities. For the non-dance educator, however, the prospect can be intimidating.

Like any new concept and experience in the classroom, introducing dance is best done when scaffolded. The following are some helpful exercises to aid you in laying a foundation for integrating movement activities, such as the ones on page 13, into your classroom with success.

STEP 1: TALK ABOUT DANCE

Goal: To encourage students to realize that dance is for everyone and to lay the foundation to create a nonthreatening environment for movement exploration.

Explanation: In this activity, students will discuss their concepts of dance and will progressively explore how the body can convey emotion.

When: Prior to introducing movement to the classroom for the first time.

1. Explore what dance means. Ask questions like, "What is dance?", "What does dance mean to you?", "How do you dance?", "Who dances?"
2. Explain that dancing is for everyone and that it is a powerful means of human communication.
3. Now suggest several emotions for the students to show you without words or sounds. Call out happy, sad, love, fear, anger, etc., one at a time. Have the class show those emotions.
4. Repeat the exercise, this time without the use of any facial expression, and then without the use of different body parts, to encourage many different ways to express emotion.

STEP 2: SET EXPECTATIONS

Goal: To set expectations for class behavior during movement activities.

Explanation: To best ensure success, set collective rules of what is and is not appropriate during each movement activity. For example, keeping hands and feet to oneself, areas of the room that are off limits, when it is and is not okay to use our voices.

STEP 3: WARM-UP

Goal: To get students ready for movement activities.

Explanation: Warm-ups are important to warm up the muscles and prepare for physical activity; this helps prevent injury. Warm-ups also get us ready to focus and concentrate.

When: You should consider doing some sort of warm-up prior to each time you do a classroom movement activity. The following are two examples of warm-up activities that aid clarity and focus.

Name Game:

1. In a circle, have each student stand shoulder to shoulder, with a straight posture and hands out of their pockets.
2. Students one by one, will turn to their right, look that person in the eye and state their name with purpose and clarity.
3. When everyone in the circle has gone, evolve the activity by adding tempo (ex. Say your name but let's move through the circle faster, like the wind, or slow like molasses) or add a quality (ex. Say your name like a lion).
4. When ready to move on to another step, add the element of switching directions and saying names across the circle, using eye contact and a clear voice.
5. Make sure the students keep going, even with laughter, until a complete round is made with each variation.

Game of Ten:

1. Begin by having students walk around the space at varying tempos per the instructor's call.
2. Circle up.
3. Next, give different sets of movements to be done to a count of ten. You may choose to use some of the following examples.
  - ◇ Shake out hands, legs, arms, and whole body.
  - ◇ Stretch for 10 in various directions
  - ◇ Roll down through the spine to the floor for a count of 10
  - ◇ Push-ups, 10 times.
  - ◇ Roll over, sit ups, 10 times.
  - ◇ Stand up slowly for a count of 10, shake out the body again.
  - ◇ Repeat
